Insignia of our emblem

The Emblem of the KLE University is a Symbolic of its Philosophy
The Emblem...

A close look at the emblem unveils a pillar, a symbol of the 'Academy of Excellence' built on strong values and principles.
The Palm & the Seven Stars ...

The Palm is the palm of the teacher - the hand that acts, promises and guides the students to reach for the Seven Stars.....
The Seven Stars signify the 'Saptarshis Gyanamandal', the Great Bear - a constellation made of seven stars in the sky, each signifying a particular Knowledge Domain. Our culture says - The True objective of human birth is to Master these Knowledge Domains.

The Seven Stars also represent the Saptarshis, the founders of KLE Society whose selfless service and intense desire for 'Gyana Dasoha' laid the foundation for creating the knowledge kingdom called KLE Society.

Hence, another significant of the raised Palm is our tribute to these great Souls for making this deemed university a possibility.
Empowering Professionals....

'Empowering Professionals', the inscription at the base of the Emblem conveys that our Organisation with its strength, maturity and wisdom will forever strive to empower the student's community to become globally competent professionals. It has been a guiding force for the many student generators in the past and will continue to inspire many forthcoming generations to come.

KAHER Women's and Children's Health Research Unit

I. Brief Report:

In 1999, an academic collaboration was established between JNMC and University of Illinois at Chicago, USA with the objective of strengthening Medical Education as well as to develop research capacity and clinical care services in Maternal and Child Health.

The National Institute of Child Health and Human Development of the National Institutes of Health, USA for the first time ever formed a Global Network for Women's and Children's Health Research in the year 2001 to implement community based research studies to improve maternal, neonatal, infant and early childhood health and accelerate the achievement of Millennium Development Goals 4 and 5 (of reducing maternal and newborn mortality) in low and middle income countries across Asia, Africa and Latin America. The initiative was generously supported by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. In response to this initiative, JNMC, in collaboration with UIC, submitted a research proposal for funding and was selected as one of the original ten sites in the network from India, Pakistan, Tibet, Zambia, Democratic Republic of Congo, Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, and Guatemala for the initial five years of funding. JNMC is the only private institution to receive this research grant. Realizing the Global Network mandate, JNMC established a Women's and Children's Health Research Unit in 2001. Building on the expanded research capacity emanating from Global Network participation, JNMC has forged collaborations with nine Universities of the USA and two from Canada as well as other international not-for-profit organizations. This has enabled the creation of an international multi-disciplinary research team of clinicians, scientists, public health experts, and information technology specialists supporting the development of research protocols, the results of which have global impact on the health of women and children. Based on its commendable performance during the first cycle, the 'Research Unit' gained recognition as one of the six among the ten sites to be re-funded for a second cycle of five years until 2012 and this has been further continued in the third cycle of funding until 2018.

The establishment of 'Women's and Children's Health Research Unit' at JNMC has been supplemented by essentials like the setting up of five regional data centres throughout the district, training of dedicated research faculty and the strengthening of Institutional Review Board mechanisms in order to accomplish research capacity building and infrastructure development. The research unit has developed a Study Management System, comprising electronic data entry and management, for monitoring the process evaluation. In fulfilment of its mission, the research unit has forged a strong Public Private Partnerships with the Belagavi District Health Administration for implementing community based interventions and presently serves a population of over 670,000 residing in 231 villages spread over eight talukas of Belagavi district. This population is served by 32 Primary Health Centers and the health workers have been trained for ethical conduct of research and data collection. This community based research network offers an ideal platform for testing evidence based intervention for impacting health outcomes of this under-served population.

Over the past seventeen years, JNMC's multi-disciplinary research team has conducted a number of community based research projects with support from World Health Organization, Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD) Global Network for Women's and Children's Health Research, other NIH agencies, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, American Academy of Pediatrics, Gynuity Health Projects, Thrasher Research Fund, Department of Biotechnology Govt. of India and the UK Medical Research Council. The results of these insightful research studies have had a profound impact at national and international levels in shaping public health policies.
